Have you ever wondered what it takes to produce a Wallace and Gromit movie? Well now is your chance to have a go in our 'Animaniacs' studio event...

Our animators will show you how to capture the essence of a character through simple modelling before you go on to create your very own animated movie.

Amusing films are always popular but we have also seen fantastic re-enactments of famous movie scenes and television intros; the A Team and Only Fools & Horses, for instance.

Come up with a script and draw your ideas onto a storyboard. Everyone gets to create their own model to turn into anyone or anything they like.

Our animators will be circulating the room giving useful hints and can lend their expert hands to help with fiddly embellishments. Then use our clever stop motion software to get your models moving just like those in Wallace & Gromit.

In a grand finale everyone sits down to watch all of the animations; the room always fills with cheers and laughter.
