This is a fantastic energiser version of our ever popular Funky Junk event; it is ideal to enthuse and motivate everybody before the start of a meeting or conference.

With random piles of strange household and garden junk, you create a show fit for the West End. Watch, learn and listen as we create a junk-percussion orchestra from everyone around you. This whirlwind session is all about group belief, input and success.

We come to a venue of your choice, bringing a whole host of (clean!) junk for you to whack, strum, smack and drum on. Everyone gets an item from dustbins to watering cans, brooms to ladders. Your group is arranged in percussion sections and shown how to get the best and most varied sounds from your junk.

With multiple rhythm sections all working together, we expand your performance with many exciting musical sections to constantly push your group past their performance expectations.

Led by our expert Rhythm Directors, you won't believe how quickly this all comes together into an orchestral ensemble of junk. Junk Funk enlightens teams to just what is possible with the bare essentials; trust, teamwork and group determination. This fast paced and hilarious event comes with costume props for the finishing touch.
