

Virtual Baking

EVENT FACTS:

Duration: Approx. 1-2 hours

Location: Nationwide /Global

Group Size: 15-100

Who doesn't like the smell of home baking in their home, or better still the delicious results and feeling of achievement when you created it yourself?

Our virtual Home Baking event will unlock potential that many will not know they had and hone skills for the more familiar baker. Our Michelin star chef will ensure that all involved benefit from their years of experience with this fun and engaging event.

With only the most basic kitchen and a few utensils we ensure that everyone has the chance of producing great bakes to be proud of. We'll send all the ingredients and key items needed to your doorstep by our reliable courier 2 days in advance.

The event starts with an overview of the recipe to be followed with a little of the all-important chemistry that's so crucial. From proving and knocking back to the elasticity of gluten, we'll go through the science and be on hand for questions throughout.

We'll discuss the recipe to be chosen with you for time and complexity and can add a competitive element if required with our chef judging the end results. You can also split into teams with virtual break out rooms where groups can collaborate. Here they can put together a complete business plan to make and sell their product. A spokesperson will then present to the group and our judges to gain the title of team champions!

Delegates can demonstrate the ability to follow instruction, use initiative, execute the practical aspects of the challenge and show their creative skills.
