Virtual Haka Workshop

EVENT FACTS:

Duration: Approx. 1 hoursLocation: WorldwideGroup Size: 10-250

This traditional Maori tribal dance acts as a powerful energiser, amusing afterwork antics or a fantastic team building activity. It brings people together and gives them a shared experience that they'll certainly never forget!

Made famous by the New Zealand All Blacks Rugby team, the Haka is an ancient sacred dance. It can be a war cry or challenge, but it can also be performed to welcome distinguished guests or to acknowledge great occasions, achievements or birthdays and is even performed at funerals.

Just as guests are getting comfortable in their online conference, they hear the roar of 'The Call' ... the loud and exciting opening chant of the lead tribesmen. Suddenly the Haka Master storms the 'zoom' and performs the Ka Mate 'Haka' in full traditional Maori tribal wear to the delight (and surprise) of your guests.

Your group will experience 100% Maori passion from our Haka Masters, some of whom are distant descendants of the original tribesmen who devised this custom. The Haka is sacred to our Masters and you can see from their performance what it means to them – it really is spine tingling. Following their performance, it's your turn!

Our Haka tribesmen will teach your group the words, meanings and actions of the Haka before joining you in a group performance. For large groups we will split the group and each team will battle to deliver the louder, more impassioned Haka.
