A fantastic energiser for a large group, this Icebreaker will have your group singing in Perfect Harmony...

No matter how woeful you think that your singing voice might be or how out of practice you are, our expert vocalist facilitators will have your delegation filling the conference venue with euphoric music.

We are expert at involving everybody – especially the reluctant, and as the sea of voices builds, even the tone deaf will be able to play their part under our creative and amusing instruction. There are no soloists unless they volunteer!

Within minutes everyone is relaxed and thoroughly enjoying themselves, they'll be working as a team in perfect harmony! The power of singing is palpable, the intense high of being part of a huge choir singing Hey Jude or Bohemian Rhapsody has to be felt to be believed...

You'll be amazed as shy colleagues show off their hidden vocal talents and tentative first-time singers bellow out lyrics to favourite tunes. By the end of the short session your group will be completely energised with a sense of group achievement and bonding, raring for the rest of the day.

As an Icebreaker, this event runs for just over an hour; there are options to extend including a pop-up recording studio and your own home-grown lyrics, discuss your preferences with our events team.
