Buy and sell as the stock prices on the giant screen constantly rise and fall. Pay attention for news flashes and company rumours – every event will affect share values. Can you predict the results of events to short the market, and beat the competition....?

We turn your venue into a virtual trading 'pit' complete with a huge, live-feed share price screen. Events spiral out of control as share prices soar and crash – will you be able to react quickly and keep your stock safe while companies go bust?

This exciting event gives you a taste of the bustling trading floor in a light hearted simulation; highly competitive and adrenaline filled it's a great pre-dinner filler. Think outside the box – effective team work and communication is key to execute the best trades.

Each team nominates one or two floor brokers to buy their stocks and shares on their behalf. You'll need to communicate effectively with your broker to make sure they buy and sell the right stocks at the best price.

The pace intensifies, the increasingly volatile world means more news and more price fluctuations – great chances to make moolah! Watch out though, even our listed companies can go bust – you don't want to be frantically shifting stocks as the ship goes down...
